

AHEAD
OF THE CURVE

Rising to the challenge

AHEAD OF THE CURVE

Who we are:

We are Ahead of the Curve, a business software solutions company dedicated to helping you achieve maximum efficiency and success in your business. We do this by staying on the cutting edge of Sage ERP and CRM solutions; Business Intelligence tools; and custom software development so that you don't have to.

What we do:

We build creative and fully comprehensive solutions - specific to your business and industry - that deliver greater productivity, increased customer engagement and better long-term returns. We value customer collaboration every step along the way to ensure we are building the right solution for you.

Why choose us?

We bring a wealth of knowledge and expertise - gained across many industries and international markets - to the table. A highly motivated and effective team, we enjoy what we do and it shows in our results. Our customer-centric approach ensures a proven track record which includes JSE, FTSE and Fortune 500 companies as clients.

Custom Software Development

We concentrate on our vision of building up strong customer and business partnership. We offer an unmatched flexibility with our custom built solutions. The methodology used to implement applications is critical to success. Our service method is comprehensive, maximising performance. Most importantly, our methodology is practical and designed according to our clients' needs and requirements.

Business Intelligence

We offer a full scope service from design and implementation to operations which address the entire data lifecycle including ETL, data warehouse, BI and analytics. Our holistic approach encompasses the analytical and operational systems to ensure integration and a closed loop, feeding actionable insights back into the business processes. Our services are designed to operate with industry-leading BI and data warehouse platforms and products offered by our ecosystem of partner technology vendors.

Enterprise Level Integration

We specialise in helping organizations overcome the challenge of accurate and supportable data integration from disparate systems and providers. We have years of experience integrating various distributed systems. Through the use of standard and sometimes custom APIs, our senior knowledgeable consultants can leverage information from a variety of systems and facilitate information exchange between these. We are the approved sole distributors of an integration product which allows for high speed graphical integration at low cost with a quick return on investment.

Enterprise Resource Planning

Improve your odds for a successful ERP implementation by starting with an ERP consulting partner offering a comprehensive range of essential services, from ERP selection, to business change management, ERP customization and integration, to training and strategic planning.

Mobile App Development

Here at Ahead of the Curve we hire the most intelligent, proficient and tech-savvy mobile apps developers. Our developers have an in-depth knowledge of major platforms and frameworks used for mobile app development. With a team of dedicated developers, designers, and creative engineers, we can provide on-demand capacity to help you meet challenges, tight deadlines and promises to the marketplace.

Customer Relationship Management

Build on the technical skills of your users and ensure your team takes full advantage of the many benefits of your ERP systems. We provide effective, convenient ERP training courses to help your users and technical teams better use the software.

Drupal Web Development

We use Drupal as it is modular and expandable, standards-based, low-resource demanding, secure and collaborative. It is a powerful platform with a large, active developer community, which allows users to easily publish, manage and share a wide variety of content. Its' flexibility allows one to create corporate and community based websites that enable one to manage teams, host discussions, run polls, communicate and use a myriad of other productivity-enhancing features.

Creative Design

We strongly believe that developing solid solutions should be complemented with user centric interfaces that make the systems easier to use which in turn reduces the cost of training and errors. We have a dedicated design team that can assist with brand development across digital and traditional media and creating engaging and accessible interfaces.

"It was an absolute pleasure to work with the Ahead of the Curve team. We engaged them to work with us on a complex integration and customisation project, with very tight deadlines. Many of the user's requirements, and the integration target system's functionality was close to the projects end. Ahead of the Curve's professional, transparent approach certainly inspired confidence throughout; and will most definitely motivate us to seek out opportunities to work with them in future."

Graham Jennings (Managing Director)
Quadrant Consulting

